What our customers say

RS - Luke Cummins, RS Category Manager

“We’ve worked with Live Electronics for a number of years. They have always provided us with a fast, efficient and proactive service. The team at Live will always go the extra mile to help us source exactly the electronic components that we need and back this up with an outstanding level of technical knowledge and commercial support. I have no hesitation in recommending them to potential customers.”

3a Technology – Martin Snooks, Senior Engineer

“Our key requirements are critical components for the repair and remanufacture of air sampling pumps. Live Electronics support us with a variety of products that include connectors, fuse holders and switches. In each case, they provide an extremely high standard of service, with dependable deliveries and competitive prices. Our orders have always been processed smoothly and, in the rare event that there has been an issue, the team at Live Electronics has always resolved it quickly and efficiently.”

Pudsey Diamond – Tom Massey, Senior Electronic Design Engineer

“Live Electronics is a valued supplier. They support us with the low volume supply of specialised electronic components, which we’re using for some of our prototype projects. Live Electronics provides an outstanding service, with excellent product choice, reliable deliveries and competitive prices. Just as importantly, they are proactive throughout, with prompt, accurate and friendly communication, which keeps us up to speed with each order.”
